- Dr Igor Calzada, MBA, FeRSA (@ICalzada), is a senior techno-political scientist, academic and policy adviser currently working since 2019 at the European Commission, DG Joint Research Centre, Centre for Advanced Studies (i) [DigiTranScope; (ii) Data Ecosystems; and (iii) AI Watch projects] paralleling his position since 2012 at the University of Oxford, Urban Transformations ESRC and Future of Cities Programmes at COMPAS, in several research projects: (i) EU-H2020-Smart Cities and Communities-SCC-01-2015-691735-Replicate (2016<), (ii) ESRC-Urban Transformations (2016-2019), and (iii) City-Regions project funded by Ikerbasque (2012-2014) and the RSA \(Regional Studies Association\) \(2014-2015\).
- His main research interest draws on how digital transformation processes driven by AI disruption in the post-GDPR current context are altering techno-political and democratic conditions of data governance for the emergence of new algorithmic citizenship regimes in European (smart) cities and regions by paying special attention to the interplay of multistakeholders and the creation of data cooperatives and platform cooperatives schemes from the social innovation perspective. In addition, he focusses on comparing social, technological, economic, democratic, and politically innovative processes in cities and regions by paying special attention to cases and issues of regional and metropolitan devolution.
- In particular, he is focused on investigating European City-Regions and Smart City benchmarking case studies through the application of qualitative and action research methods focusing on digital rights, social innovation, and policy analysis. At present, he is giving advice to the European Commission H2020 Framework programme on Smart Cities and Communities and also, he has been the European coordinator of the ESRC funded Urban Transformations programme.
- Previously, he has worked as Lecturer, Research Fellow, Associate Researcher, and Visiting Lecturer Lecturer in Global Sustainable Cities, Politics, Business Administration, Social Science, Regional Studies, Geography, Cultural Studies, Innovation Studies and Policy & Sociology at the: (i) University of Strathclyde in Glasgow (UK) (2015-2019) lecturing in the MSc in Global Sustainable Cities; (ii) Vrije Universiteit Brussel \(Belgium\) \(2016\); (iii) Aston University in Birmingham \(UK\) \(2014-2015\); (iv) University of Iceland \(2013\); (v) University of Malmö \(Sweden\) \(2013\); (vi) University of Nevada, Reno \(USA\) \(2008-2009\); (vii) University of Helsinki (Finland) (2004); and (viii) University of Mondragon \(Spain\) \(2002-2012\).
- Alongside these academic positions, he has been awarded the following research fellowships: (i) Visiting Fellowship at Vrije Universiteit Brussel (Belgium) (2016-2017); (ii) European Commission's Cofund Regional Programmes by the Marie Curie Fellowship; (iii) RSA's Early Career Grant \(2014-2016\); (iv) Ikerbasque's Postdoctoral Fellowship (2012-2014); and (v) Caja Madrid Foundation's Doctoral Fellowship at the University of Nevada (USA) (2008-2009).
- He works from the academia with practitioners and policy-makers from private firms, regional governments, NGOs, consultancies, metropolitan and city authorities on how to experiment regionally-rooted further democratic and citizen-centric approaches based on living labs and data-driven environments.
- Over the last 23 years, he has been gaining an intense international profile being invited as keynote speaker worldwide (in more than 80 countries), participating in remarkable scientific conferences and events, and directly giving policy advice to governments, firms, universities, technological centers, civic groups, and NGOs. He has been invited keynote speaker in China, India, Russia, Brazil, South Africa, Uruguay, Venezuela, Kazakhstan, USA, and all over Europe, and conducted fieldwork in Mozambique and Colombia.
- Outside the academia, he has been director of research, technology and innovation in the Basque regional government (Spain) (2009-2010); project director at the Mondragon Co-operative Corporation research centre in innovation (Spain) (2002-2012); and deputy director at the automotive SMEs in Spain (1999-2001). In addition, he has been the director and the co-founder of the academic entrepreneurial spin-off called Translokal SL (2014-2019).
- He was awarded PhD Cum Laude in Business Administration by the University of Mondragon and the University of Nevada, Reno in 2011 (11st February). In addition, he obtained an M.B.A. MSc in Business Administration in 1999 and the Certificate of the Diploma in Advanced Studies by the University of Helsinki (Finland) and Deusto (Spain) in 2006. He obtained the BSc in Sociology First Class with Honours by the University of Deusto (Spain) in 1997.
- He has co-directed several scientific events and knowledge exchange programmes: (i) Bridging European Urban Transformations ESRC \(2016-2019\); (ii) Smart Rural Communities \(2019\), Political Innovation \(2015\), Creative Society \(2007\), Creative Capital \(2006\), and Future of Work \(2005\) Summer Schools; and City-Regions Congress \(2012\).
- He possesses an emerging track-record of publications: 27 peer-reviewed academic journal articles (published in Journal of Urban Technology, Sustainability, Space and Polity, Regional Studies Regional Sciences, Regional Science Policy & Practice, Data & Policy, RSA Journal, and Systems, among others), 10 books, 13 book chapters, 22 policy reports, more than 116 invited international keynotes and talks related to digital policy, smart cities, and political regionalism, and 18 media articles.
- He is preparing now two monographs: One entitled 'Smart Cities Citizenship' via Elsevier and the other one in the Regions and Cities Series entitled 'Benchmarking City-Regions' via Routledge.
